

The Association Names a Communications Chairman

The Board of Directors is pleased to announce the appointment of James B. Kilpatrick, Class of 1965, as the Association's Communications Chairman and Editor of the Rough Rider Newsletter, effective December 1, 2010.

Known to his friends as either Jimbo or Jim, he was born in Galesburg, Illinois in 1947. He spent ten years on a farm before moving with his family to Wake Island. He was educated in both public and private schools. He attended high school in Aledo, Illinois at Roosevelt Military Academy. After graduating from the academy he attended the University of Guam, Huron College and finally the University of Hawaii where he earned three degrees, a BA in journalism, a professional diploma in English and a master of Education degree.

He has worked in the radio, television and newspaper fields and was a teacher for thirty years. He taught from the sixth grade to college courses during that period.

He is retired. living in McKinney, Texas and is now writing novels covering many areas including true life, Sci-Fi and mystery genres. He can be reached at jim.kilpatrick@rmaroughriders.org if you would like to submit suggestions and information that will be used in the quarterly newsletter. Among featured sections that Jim would like to include in the Rough Rider Newsletter are:

- Taps
- Where are they now?
- Who is this
- From the desk of President
- Plans and Activities